HELD IN PONZI CASE

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 12.—Mrs. C. M. Brightwell, wife of Charles Brightwell, president of the Old Colony Exchange Company, was arrested last night by the police on charges of larceny of $35,000, conspiracy and receiving stolen property. She was taken to police headquarters.

The arrest followed the return of indictments against Charles Ponzi and several other officials of the two get-rich-quick schemes. It became known that two alleged partners of Ponzi are missing.

FIRST OF GOLD FLEET ARRIVES

$3,500,000 Received at New York for Account of British Government.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The first of the "gold fleet," carrying British and French gold to this country, arrived Friday with a cargo of $3,500,000 of the precious metal consigned to J. P. Morgan & Co., who sold it to the local reserve bank. The yellow metal was for account of the British government. Just for what purpose it was sent could not be learned, but it is assumed that it will be used in part to pay off the Anglo-French loan.

A cargo of $4,000,000 of gold on board the steamship Lorraine is expected here next Tuesday for account of the French government, while the steamer Lafayette will sail today with $10,000,000 gold for account of the French government. It was also reported that the steamship La Lorraine will carry $5,000,000 of gold consigned to J. P. Morgan & Co.

Bankers state that so far approximately $20,000,000 of gold has been dedicated by the French government for shipment to the United States. Total shipments of the French share of the Anglo-French loan is expected to reach between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000.

The steamship Aquatania which will sail from England today will carry about $2,900,000 of gold consigned to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. This metal was purchased in the open market at London, and is one of many shipments that have been made by that firm since the beginning of the year.

RED CROSS WILL SPEND
48 MILLIONS IN 1921

New Program Calls for Gigantic Sum for Foreign Land Relief.

The American Red Cross has arranged a program that will cost $48,000,000 during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1921, according to an official announcement here today. Approximately $20,000,000 was spent in the year which ended last July.

Important among the items of the new budget is an appropriation of $21,700,000 for relief in foreign lands, which includes $11,000,000 in purchased supplies now on hand and not distributed.

This will enable the Red Cross to aid stricken peoples to reestablish themselves and to fight epidemics which threaten many countries.

Appropriations for domestic activities total $18,700,000. The largest item is $7,500,000 for civilian relief work. This includes service and assistance for families of veterans. Five million dollars is held in reserve for actual disaster relief.

For assistance to soldiers, sailors, and marines in hospitals and camps $1,900,000 has been set aside, and $4,200,000 appropriated for improvement of health and prevention of disease throughout the United States.

The appropriation of $48,200,000 is exclusive of the local expenditures of the 2,000 or more chapters. Administration expenses will be $1,800,000. Last year they were $2,300,000.

15 STRIKES IN PROGRESS.

There are 15 strikes and 43 controversies which have not reached the strike stage, before the Department of Labor for adjustment. Three new cases were brought to the Department's attention last week.

SUGGEST RAISE IN POSTAL INTEREST

Eugene Meyer Says It Would Create Ten Million Depositors, As Bankers Inquire.

By WILLIAM H. CONRAD.

Bankers throughout the country are deeply interested in the discussion going on in various circles of Congress contemplating an increase of the interest rate on postal savings and figuring the effect it would have on their deposits.

Eugene Meyer, formerly director of the War Finance Corporation, is one of the leaders in the move and already has appeared before the Senate Reconstruction Committee, of which Senator Calder of New York is chairman, with the suggestion that the Government would benefit greatly by such a contemplated increase, in that it could reduce its floating debt and assist the people of the nation at the same time.

10,000,000 DEPOSITORS.

According to Mr. Meyer's idea, the increase of the rate and enlargement of the number of depositaries would result in one year in the creation of 10,000,000 depositors having an average of $250 each.

In other words, Mr. Meyer believes that within one year there would be an increase in postal savings bank deposits of approximately $2,500,000,000.

Already Mr. Meyer has taken occasion to say that he is gratified by the strongly favorable reception given to his suggestions. He says that he has received a large number of written and verbal communications on the subject from various sources, and that prominent heads of national banks, private investment bankers, labor leaders representing large groups, and important leaders in commerce and industry have assured him of their approval.

Mr. Meyer says the consensus of opinion was practically unanimous on the following three points:

1. That a 2 per cent rate is too low a rate to pay to Government savings depositors.
2. That the onerous conditions of not allowing interest for less than a year or for any fraction of a year must be revised so that interest be paid by the Government for deposit of three months or over.
3. That the present condition which gives the Postmaster no credit for the Postal Savings business in establishing the rate on which his pay is based should be changed, so that instead of the Postmaster, as at present, having this business as an additional burden without consideration for the work, he would be properly compensated.

Even the presidents of important savings institutions have assured Mr. Meyer that they will approach the matter in the interest of the general public and not from a narrow point of view of selfish interest. Mr. Meyer held a conference with the heads of some New York savings banks on Thursday, but he said that he was not authorized to make their names public.

DEPOSITORIES LACKING.

Mr. Meyer declares there are innumerable towns where no places exist for deposit of savings, and as a result the people have to hide their money. This hoarding, he said, was particularly true with regard to a proportion of the foreign element, who lack confidence or are unfamiliar with the methods of savings banks in this country.

Many millions would be drawn from this source with the expansion of the postal savings system, according to Mr. Meyer.

LATVIAN ENVOY GIVEN PERMISSION TO LAND

Upon the plea that his wife is ill and deportation at this time would endanger her life, the Department of State has given permission for Alfred Nagel, secretary of the Latvian legation, now held at Ellis Island, to land. Mme. Nagel will also be permitted to land.

When Nagel arrived the State Department requested the Latvian government to recall him, on the ground that his activities had been distasteful to this country.

It was announced at the State Department that the order for deportation will be carried out as soon as the health of Mrs. Nagel permits.

FIRE DESTROYS PAPER.

SOMERVILLE, Mass., Sept. 12.—Paper is a pretty valuable commodity these days, what with pulp shortages and everything. So when Abraham Greenberg's wagon load of paper blazed up on Popular street a regular bell alarm was sounded and the whole fire department gashed motoring to the scene. At that, the damage was $350.

"I Am the Heir of All the Ages!"

THE WINDS, BLEW WESTWARD FROM THE coast of Spain for countless centuries ere Columbus lifted sail.

Lightnings flashed from the heavens for uncounted ages before Franklin flew his kite.

The clouds rolled on for aeons, with only birds to soar apace, until Wilbur Wright taught man to fly.

THE SEVEN SEAS WERE OPEN TO OTHER mariners before the intrepid Columbus.

The bolts of Jove and the airs they pierced were waiting for fearless captors long before Franklin and Wright were born.

And yet in every line of human endeavor it has remained for one pioneer to reach out from the ranks of men that he might build something higher or make something better.

THE PRINTING PRESS IS NOT A NEW INVENTION. Gutenberg opened its possibilities to all men long years ago.

Nor is type, ink, paper or pictures among the newer tools at the command of the hand and mind of man.

The things of which a newspaper is made have been common property for years and yet how few Franklins or Wrights there have been in journalism!

THERE NEVER HAS BEEN A TIME, FOR INSTANCE, SINCE the printer's craft was born, that such a newspaper as The Washington Times could not have been published.

Arthur Brisbane has been writing and Winsor McCay has been drawing for many years. The events of the day have traveled over wires with the speed of gossip since the telegraph was invented. For long years men have wandered the streets of foreign capitals and along secluded country lanes and they have penetrated the fastnesses of the jungle to photograph the new and the unusual.

Yet it has remained for one and only one organization to gather all these things into the pages of a single newspaper—a really worthwhile newspaper—The Washington Times.

THE WASHINGTON TIMES IS NOT A PERFECT NEWSPAPER. In its own mind's eye it will never be perfect.

Perhaps it is this eternal discontent with itself—this constant belief that there may yet be some way to make a better TIMES—that makes so many men prefer The Washington Times to any other newspaper.

And the constantly increasing number of Times' readers is certainly abundant proof that men approve of the efforts of the men who are striving so earnestly to make a more perfect newspaper each day and this increasing preference for The Times is the all-sufficient reward of these men who want to make The Times all that a newspaper should be—all that a newspaper possibly can be.

WITH NO THOUGHT OF COST, OTHER THAN IT MUST COST more to give so much The Times has gathered the best newspaper making talent and the best newspaper features in order that it might give more in a newspaper making way than any other newspaper can give its readers.

The Times must sell for three cents per copy in a field where other newspapers sell for two—because it costs more to make The Times than it does to make an ordinary newspaper.

Yet you will cheerfully pay three cents to buy The Times, for the same reason that its publishers pay more to make The Times, because you can be satisfied only with the best. Order The Times delivered today. Its home delivery price is still sixty cents per month—the saving is worth while.
